Scroggins Mill Rural Heritage Foundation Mission

Scroggins Mill Rural Heritage Foundation is a not-for-profit tax-exempt organization based in Lebanon. Its purpose is to preserve a vital part of the agricultural history of Lebanon and surrounding Linn County and to look into the future of agriculture in Linn County and its possible effects on our culture.

The Foundation now owns both the original Scroggins Mill structure and the land on which it sits. With the help of the community, the Foundation is working to restore Scroggins Mill, to showcase our rural heritage, and to demonstrate how that has affected our present culture.

1970 Chevy C-10 Truck Raffle Request for Sponsors

The Scroggins Mill Rural Heritage Foundation is asking for sponsors for our 1st vehicle raffle. The vehicle that is being raffled off is a 1970 Chevy C-10 truck. We are looking for donations of funds, parts, labor and material needed to restore the truck to a desirable item the ticket buyers would love to have.

The principle of the raffle is to raise funds for the restoration of the old Scroggins Grain Mill located at 280 West Sherman Street in Lebanon, OR. The original structure, built in 1881 and later additions are in remarkable shape. However, there is much to be done to make it usable to the public again. All proceeds, with exception to incidentals needed to start and run the project, are going toward the restoration of the Scroggins Mill.

The Scroggins Mill Rural Heritage Foundation hopes that your company will be part of the historic restoration of the Scroggins Mill that will benefit the surrounding communities that it has served for over 120 years.
